Chamber sponsored

Kuzeks win light-up

Jenny and Dwight Kuzek's home has captured first place in the Drayton Valley Chamber of Commerce residential Christmas light-up contest.

First place in the county residential entries goes to Marj and Albert Fuhrer with Mobil Oil capturing top spot in the business category.

Judges spent 4½ hours viewing all the entries in Drayton Valley and within a 10-mile radius of town last Thursday night.

Kuzek's winning entry, located at 4608-56 St. included homemade ice sculptures on the front lawn with the front of the house attractively decorated in lights. The sculptures took between 15 and 20 hours to make.

Second place in the residential category went to Jill and Howard Gehhardt, who live at 4520-43 St. Their entry included a Santa's workshop on the front lawn, surrounded by lights and music in the background. Their living room window was also decorated, which added to the setting.

The judges were very impressed with the hours that obviously went into the two award-winning entries.

Honorable mention to Gary Capanluk at 4622-49 St., Gunther Schmidt's nativity scene on 45th Ave. and Don and Darlene VanEmber's roof scene at 4814-50th Ave.

Fuhrer's first place entry in the rural residential category included a homemade Santa's sleigh and his reindeer. The Fuhrer's live at 8 Rex Drive in Rex Gray's subdivision.

Orville Johnson, who lives on Highway 22 just east of the Lodgepole turnoff, was second with his attractive light display on several buildings.

Mobil Oil captured first place in the business category for their large Christmas tree and pump jack that were outlined in lights.

The judges were also impressed with several areas of town, where it was obvious residents had teamed up with lights.

Cash prizes will be awarded to the top two entries in the residential competitions and to the lone winner in the business section.

Mayhow waits

Clark away on world business

Drayton Valley Mayor Bob Mayhow may have to wait until January for a reply from Yellowhead MP Joe Clark.

Last week Mayor Mayhow said, "Maybe Joe Clark should pay more attention to the constituency instead of worldly affairs."

Deadline change

Because New Year's Day falls on Wednesday, the next issue of The Western Review will be published on Jan. 2.

The advertising and news copy deadline for this paper will be noon, Friday, Dec. 27. The Western Review office will be open Dec. 27, 30 and 31st.

However, it's because of those worldly affairs that the Drayton Valley mayor will have to wait for a showdown with the Minister of External Affairs.

When asked about Clark's whereabouts last Wednesday, a staff member in his Edson office replied, "He's in Brussels or some place like that."

And Clark's special assistant, David Jones, was away in Nova Scotia.

It appears the mayor will have to wait until Jan. 18 when Clark has a scheduled visit to the constituency.

One item the mayor wants to talk to Clark about is a railway for Drayton Valley, that is essential with the opening of the new strawboard plant next November.

This holiday season is special.

For the family, it will be our first Christmas in Drayton Valley.

And, in 10 days, it will mark my first year as editor of the Western Review.

It's been a busy year, but also a very rewarding 12 months. For this we must give thanks to many.

The staff at The Western Review, who many may not be familiar names. But they, in their own roles, are an important part of our team.

In the front office there's Lyne Argent who handles most of the day-to-day problems and part-time receptionist Marion Underschlutz, who's our late paper trouble shooter.

Three people who have played a big role in our success story this past year work in the sales department. They are sales manager Kelly Stone, Doris Hendrix and Linda McGinn.

The people who work long hours and have produced some exciting features and photographs in the paper include reporter/photographers Debbie Johnson, Lorne Christensen and local product Ray Leitchbury, who is also our full-time darkroom technician.

The crew who handle the production side of the operation and make sure we meet our deadlines include Donna Hanson, Karin Ness, Connie Zorn and Connie Gaudet.

Two staff members who are an important part of our team concept but may not be household names are Lois Dille, our very reliable truck driver and Barry Ness, who knows all the short cuts when it comes to circulation.

And, to custodian Jerry Marwin who comes in twice a week and cleans up the mess.

A 'special' bouquet to Bernice Johnson, LeOpal Larson, Donna Haukedel, Hazel Winfield, Dorothy Domke, Alma Johnson, Shelli Carson, Mao Tyron and Bonnie Hunter who contribute news as area correspondents.

And, to the many others who contribute weekly news articles to the pages of The Western Review.

Thanks to Marvin Long for his excellent photographs and to Scott Daly, a young Drayton Valley youth, who has contributed some sports shots.

A lot of our success this past year wouldn't have been possible without the tremendous faith of the advertisers. And for this, we say thanks.

Thanks also, to the people who buy The Western Review. It's obvious from our increased circulation, that you like what we're doing. And, our thanks to the people who sell the paper.

Two people who have helped greatly in our first year getting settled in our job and our new home are Natalie Gibson and Lance Grosco. Thanks for going that extra mile.

As the year draws to a close, we hope it has been a rewarding one for you. And hope you will share in the excitement that awaits Drayton Valley in 1986.

News from 1985 in review

JANUARY

Services were interrupted at the Centennial Civic Arena when the hot water main was left open. ACCESS announced completion of their video production on the Shangri-La Lodge. Christopher Edward John Buslin was Drayton Valley's New Year's baby, arriving on Jan. 3. Rumors persisted that Makin Pulp and Paper of Calgary were going to build a mill in or near Drayton Valley. County of Lodge teachers took strike action in support of wage demands. And, construction got underway on the ITanti Lecture Series at the old hospital site.

FEBRUARY

The highlight of the month was the official opening of the $1.4 million Park Valley/Indoor swimming pool. Students returned to class as the County of Lodge teachers settled their strike. Five Drayton Valley area men were injured in a Feb. 4 fire at a Texaco well site eight kilometres north and three kilometres east of Groulx. And, the Drayton Valley Association for the Developmentally Handicapped raised $4,816 at their annual charity auction.

MARCH

The community was shocked at the death of Richard (Richie) Woods, principal at the Frank Maddock High School for 18 years. More than 850 people attended the funeral held in the Rex Fox. Gillian MacLellan was crowned winter carnival queen. Three Brandyette workers were burned in a propane furnace explosion. And, a ScoutGuide sports banquet organized by Bill Farrell raised more than $9,000.

APRIL

A 13-month dream came true when a Life Support system started. Nurses at Drayton Valley and Evansburg health units joined seven other provincial units in strike action to support wage demands. And, town council dealt with 30 problems at their new swimming pool.

MAY

The Yes Group, Western Ratepayers formed to push for the creation of a new county. Dennis Woolsey was fired as recreation director and the town removed the vending machines from the swimming pool. The ride against cancer raised $8,000. The Town of Drayton Valley announced plans for a two-price system at their new swimming pool and shortly after, the municipal library said they were looking at a two-price structure. Bernie and Lucille Schell at the Twin Pine Motel won a Travel Alberta Good Housekeeping award. More than $11,000 was raised to send Jamie Platz to a cancer clinic in Mexico. "We're so grateful to everyone," Gail Platz said.

JUNE

The Drayton Valley volunteer fire department was hampered by crowded quarters. "It definitely creates operating problems," Fire Chief Sheldon Fyson said. Town council okayed beer and wine at the swimming pool, however, a week later the ALCP said they wouldn't issue a permit to anyone because the pool was not a suitable permit location. Hundreds turned out for the Evergreen rodeo and parade. Amoco open their new $3 million office complex with provincial Energy Minister John Zaorzycki cutting the ribbon. And, a new twist was added to the FMHS graduation, when the Drayton Valley Kiwanis, in cooperation with the RCMP, bused 300 students to a private party. Colleen Moore, spokesman for the students said after, "everything went really well."

JULY

Town council received a 46-page report on the problems at the Centennial Civic Arena. More than 1,100 people attended the FMHS graduation. The first phase of the country report was released. Canada Employment opened an office in Drayton Valley. Mayor Bob Mayhew received a 90 per cent raise which saw his yearly salary jump from $2,840 to $4,800.

AUGUST

It was a busy summer for 11-year-old Highlander dancer Shannon Bredin as she returned home with 18 medals including a fourth overall at the Canadian Championships. Skidoope Brothers Aviation of Calgary applied to the Canadian Transport Commission to operate a scheduled air service connecting Calgary, Rocky Mountain House, Drayton Valley and Edmonton. The Drayton Valley Legion donated $2,500 to help send the Alex Ores baseball club to the Western Canada championships. Plans were announced for a truck stop on a 10-acre site at the corner of 50th Avenue and Highway 22. And, dentist Hank Shimshani was nominated for the $75,000 Manning award for his work in the field of reducing chronic pain.

SEPTEMBER

Upwards of 4,800 people attended the three-day Drayton Valley Chamber of Commerce sponsored trade fair. The fair, organized by Kristina Little and Marty Prastine, featured 107 booths and 92 exhibitors. Petro Canada opened their $33 million Branson gas plant. And, a fireworks forced Drayton Valley area farmer Sonny Engel from his farm.

OCTOBER

Pelican Spruce Mills of Edson announced plans for a $25 million strandboard plant on the Tucker quarter along Highway 22. The RCMP moved into their new building. A report said it would cost $1 million to renovate the arena. Britain announced they were looking at building their own swimming pool and the town said they would look at installing toilets at the arena.

NOVEMBER

St. Anthony's Parish announced plans for an $800,000 church. Kathy Palmer left the recreation department after 3 1/2 years. Two Drayton Valley hotels were charged with allowing a minor in a licensed premise following the death of a 17-year-old youth. Frank Maddock passed away at the age of 92. And, town council announced plans to look at a new arena and renovate the existing arena so it could be used for a town hall, fire hall, library and recreation offices.

DECEMBER

Mayor Bob Mayhew and Yellowhead MP Joe Clark are expected to meet next month after the mayor said, "Maybe Joe Clark should pay more attention to the constituency instead of worldly affairs." Drayton Valley area farmer Sonny Engel was acquitted of criminal charges. The long-awaited municipal study was completed. The Chamber announced plans to drop its winter carnival due to a lack of interest and Doug Woodhouse, manager of the Evergreen Tourist Association resigned, citing family reasons for his decision.

Boys have been first for the last five out of six years

Boys lead the Drayton Valley New Year's baby derby.

A check of Western Review files show five boys have been born in the last six years.

Christopher John Bustin was the first arrival in '85 at the Drayton Valley Hospital, arriving on Jan. 3rd and weighing approximately eight pounds. Candice Rose Marie Goertzen was born on Jan. 1/84 and weighed seven pounds 15 ounces. The first arrival in '86 was Christopher Anthony Troy Wirch of Tombahawk, weighing in at seven pounds 12 1/2 ounces. He arrived Jan. 2.

Rodney James Wilson was born on Jan. 1/82 and weighed nine pounds seven ounces. Holly Rebecca Kenne arrived on Jan. 1/81 and tipped the scales at seven pounds six ounces.

In 1980, Michael Alino Randahl of Thorby arrived at the Drayton Valley hospital on Jan. 6. He weighed eight pounds nine ounces.

Approximately 35 local merchants have donated items for a baby's luggage which will be given to the first arrival in '88. The luggage is being organized by the Alberta Association of Registered Nursing Associates.

Shangri-La Lodge holds a party

The Shangri-La Lodge Christmas party for residents and their families was celebrated last week with more than 100 people attending.

As an annual event, the party has been sponsored by the Drayton Valley Lions Club for more than 10 years. The club provided gifts for all the residents and a meal for residents and their families.

Entertainment was provided by the Drayton Valley Olives.

The evening went very well. It was well received by the residents who look forward to it every year," said Lion's member Ken Gremm. "We enjoy putting it on and it's something we also look forward to," he added.

President of the Shangri-La Social Club and lodge resident Mabel Byers said it was a "fantastic" evening. "The Olives did a very fine performance and the supper was absolutely out of this world," she added.

Byers also said residents appreciate all the volunteer help people have given the lodge throughout the year.

Recreation

A map showing the trails. The inset map shows where the trails are located in relation to Drayton Valley.

Trails ready for skiers

They're "picturesque."

That's how Nordic Ski Club president Eric Lloyd describes the club's cross-country ski trails along the North Saskatchewan River.

Lloyd says the trails have varying degrees of difficulty throughout the 16 km of groomed tracks. The 60-member club meets every Sunday to ski the trails or other trails in the Drayton Valley area, Lloyd says.

The trails near the airport also feature picnic tables and barbecue pits at various locations but are only open to cross-country skiers and no motorized vehicles.

In addition to regular upkeep of the trails the Nordic club is also planning a loppet on March 2. The "fun ski" will feature various lengths of courses for all skiers, Lloyd said.

Other programs the club is looking at include holding a Jack Rabbit Ski League. Organizer Jackie Lowrie said the ski league will be for children ages eight to 14 and will teach them how to cross-country ski. The Canada-wide program will also include instruction on proper nutrition and participation in sports.

Lowrie expects about 30 kids to register for the eight-week program that should start some time at the end of January. Anyone interested can contact her at 542-6826.

The club is also planning a cross-country ski weekend in Jasper in January along with other trips to cross-country trails in other areas, Lloyd said.

Anyone interested in joining the club should contact Eric Lloyd at 542-4890 or Jackie Lowrie at 542-6826.

Members of the Nordic Ski Club rest at one of the many picnic tables along the trails. The tables were constructed by the local high school welding shop.

Elk Strapped

Mr. Ewank from Edmonton attempts to free a young elk caught in a fence near Bear Lake. The elk was caught for about six or seven hours before being freed, according to Helen and Peter Kybak. After the animal was released Ewank had to hold it up for about 15 minutes before it regained enough strength to walk. The elk walked away later unharmed.

CHRISTMAS GREETINGS from the Park Valley Pool staff and many thanks to all our swimmers who have dropped off cards, treats and holiday greetings. Special thanks to Danny Vannucci, Glenda Mabuti, Shirley Wolbaum and all the ladies from our aquatics class for all the delicious (and fattening!) holiday treats. It looks as though the pool staff are going to have to do a lot of swimming to work off their Christmas calories.

IT'S OFFICIAL! The winner of the Winter

Warm Up is Terry Bills. Terry swam more than 20 miles in just five minutes. Terry will receive our Bogie's book on fitness, a participation pin and believe it or not, a pair of participation shoe laces. Watch for our next Fitness Challenge in early January. The Christmas Calendar Crunch!

Don't forget about our Christmas schedule. Occupy the whole family this Christmas vacation.

Dec. 24, 25, 26 - pool closed

Dec. 27 - leisure swim 24 p.m., Monster Mash 4:45 p.m.

Dec. 28 - leisure swim 27 p.m.

Dec. 29 - leisure swim 2:30 p.m., family 5:7 p.m.

Dec. 30 - leisure swim 27 p.m.

Dec. 31 - leisure swim 24 p.m.

Jan. 1 - pool closed

Jan. 2 - leisure swim 27 p.m.

Jan. 3 - leisure swim 24 p.m., Monster Mash 5:7 p.m.

Jan. 4 - return to regular pool schedule

Pick up your copy of our "all new" pool schedule and while you're at it, register in a learn-to-swim program. Programs commence the week of Jan. 6.

Celebrate the Season

Here's wishing all our friends and customers all the hope, joy and wonder of Christmas. Thank you for your loyal patronage.

Year in sports is highlighted by national championship

For Drayton Valley and the area, 1986 will go down as a very successful year in sports. Local athletes and teams claimed four provincial crowns, two Western Canadian titles and one national championship.

In January the sports scene was dominated by curling and hockey. The annual Olympics' hospital visit to the Bradburn rink from Edmonton and the curling club started talking about building a new complex. In hockey, Les Sinclair took over the Blades' coaching reins from Loren Pevlin and tried to keep their playoff hopes alive.

February saw Simon Kelly take over as in town coach of the Blades and then pull a Roger Nelson trick by waging a white towel. The Park Valley Pool officially opened with 270 swimmers testing the indoor facility the first day. Locally, Wayne Young, a Breton basketball player, put in an amazing three-game scoring effort of 107 points in curling the men's open title went to Don Howard's rink and Deanna Sluckish's rink qualified for the high school curling provincial playoffs.

In March Drayton Valley's first provincial title of the year came from the Tigers' ladies basketball team. They beat a Calgary team 59-55 in the final to win the intermediate "C" basketball crown. Back to curling Deanna Sluckish took a second place at the provincial level in high school curling while a Grande Prairie rink took the ladies' open and Lodgepole curler Al Groulx and his rink won the mixed open. Members of the local judo club came back from Edmonton with eight medals, including three gold.

In April Iris Tutin placed third at the Superdome in Edmonton, an indication of her upcoming rodeo season. The golf course opened up and so did talk of expanding it to 18 holes. At the high school level basketball players qualified for the season playoffs in St. Albert and a sleight hockey was formed in town.

May was highlighted by the martial arts club coming home with four gold medals and the Western Canadian team championship. May was also the month the ball season kicked off in town with a baseball clinic and the minor soccer program, along with Caesar's news soccer, also got going. The Neptunes began training inside for the first time and the oldest consecutive running ball league in Alberta, the Oilfield League, began its season.

In June Kathy Harker and her horse Whiskey Gold won the Superhorse award while Evansburg's Bruce Barr took the provincial high jump gold medal. At the Evergreen Rodeo Greg Bakura won the all-around while the Blackhaws finished first in the standings of the ball hockey league. Marge Topinka from Whitecourt won the ladies' golf title while Mark Witnaff beat Oulman's golf tourney defending champion Hank Shimshahi by one stroke on the last hole.

July was dominated by golf news as Lyle McGinn pocketed two holes-in-one in a row and Mike McMurrie won the junior golf title with Blair Shimshahi coming in second. Jim Jarrell was the men's open with Jeff Smith finishing a close second. In baseball it was Penny's winning the Evergreen Fastball league crown with a 4-3 victory over Don-Go Trees and the Drayton Valley Oilers won the Lee Darragh Memorial tourney. On the bantam ball scene the Andean Oilers started their drive towards the provincial baseball crown by advancing to the semi and then to the inter zones.

In August the Andean team beat Sherwood Park 8-6 in the provincial final to earn a berth in the Western Canadian Championships for bantam baseball. Meanwhile, the Twilite Tigers Oldtimers team also won the provincials and moved into the Western Canadian championships at Kildersley, which they won. Andee didn't do so well and settled for second in the best North Delta, B.C. based in their finals. Breton strong man Rod Barrett was the Canadian armwrestling Championship and moved onto the world's. August was also the month Shannon Bredin won 18 medals in a highland dance competition and Brad Pawankowsky took a second at the funny car summer nationals in Calgary. Paul Pawankowsky also took a second, in a Seattle figure skating competition. In ball the Easyford Colts repeated as Oilfield league champs. Golf was in the news as a biker ripped up the eighth green and members of the Edmonton Oilers stopped in to play a few rounds for charity.

Rod Barrett started off the month of September with a fifth place finish at the world armwrestling competition. Back in Drayton Valley Chad Asher really won the first-ever Iron Man of Oil town competition and the Pro Street auto club held a day of drag races. September also saw Catrina Beaudifield win new recreation director for the town.

In October it was announced the 1988 senior games, that Drayton Valley had earlier given up, were awarded to Grande Prairie. The Pembina flag football league came down to a mixed field game as the Brewsters beat Crude 2-1 in the cold and chilly final. The Blades started up again under the coaching talents of Simon Kelly and Morris Selfering and Tom Fortier out-torried the field in the high school Turkey Trot. In hockey a team of oldtimers from Drayton Valley won their own tournament going undefeated, while 250 runners competed in the Tomahawk Trail Trot.

For November the sports highlight was Clayton Hines' victory at the Canadian Finals rodeo. Hines took his second saddle bronc title while local barrel racer Iris Tutin qualified for the Canadian Finals but didn't win in her first appearance. Kathy Harker and Whiskey Gold tied for Superhorses award to round out the month.

In December another local provincial winner was crowned as the Evansburg Grizzlies won the high school 36 volleyball title. Al Dunkley took over as new president of the downhill ski club and the Village of Breton began making plans for a new indoor swimming pool. In hockey Morris Selfering had to go it alone as coach of the Blades after his partner Simon Kelly was hospitalized. The Blades hit the news in another area after four fans, including three local youths, were suspended from the arena after a fight broke out following a Blades game. In figure skating Crystal Kaminski placed 10th at a provincial ladies' figure skating competition while Shannon Bredin won five gold medals at a highland dancing competition. It was also announced in December that the town wouldn't be having a winter carnival in 1988 because of lack of interest. In other sports after the Harlem Kings comedy basketball team visited Breton High School and scored a 103-90 victory over the hometown team.

Everything set for Oilmen's Bonspiel

Everything is set for the Oilmen's Bonspiel in January according to Al Horn, president of the Oilmen's club.

Forty-eight risks will hit the ice with the first draw going at 8 a.m. on Friday, January 10. The curling continues until Sunday the 12th with the defending champion Brudstone rink from Edmonton back for the event. Horn said about two thirds of the risks are local.

The only change for this year's event will be a supper on Saturday night at the Rex Plex for the curlers and their partners and the sponsors. Horn says they are expecting about 350 people at the supper.

More than $10,000 in prizes are up for grabs in this year's event.

Waiting for snow

Al Dumke is waiting for snow.

The newly-elected president of the downhill ski club says all they need is snow and they can start skiing.

"It depends on the snow conditions," he explained, adding they need about a foot of snow yet.

"The bill is 98 per cent ready, all we need is snow."

Dumke said some areas of the hill have no base at all right now and it could be a short ski season.

"Anything is possible," Dumke said of the chances of starting up soon.

In other news from the hill the new chalet is about 50 per cent complete, according to Dumke.

Councillor Howard Olsen told town council Thursday that the issue would be dealt with during budget talks. Olsen said the transportation committee was looking at the possibility of one person doing the combined job of dog catcher and water metre reader.

Bill Panick indicated that he was very interested in the issue in relationship to the rates, present effectiveness and hours worked.

go because QCTV had received a number of letters from people in Drayton Valley.

As a result of the move, bookings for the community message board will be handled by town staff.

Hegge, who moved to Drayton Valley 10 months ago, says QCTV's unexpected move, leaves him with little money, no vehicle and no idea about his future.

Lachance - In loving memory of my dear wife and mother, Sherrie (Dolly) who passed away on January 1, 1986.

The treasure of your memory will never fade or die. In silence we will shed a tear. And ask the reason why. God called your name as surely. Then only you could hear. And no one heard the loneliness. Of the angels driving near. As each and every day goes by. The thrill of your smile. And always in our hearts will live. The memory of your smile. Like any on the earthed path. When other things decay. Our love for you will still be green. And never fade away. Forever loved and remembered. Don & Family

Disney gets high crib

By Edith Norquay
On Dec. 9 there were 11½ tables in play for crib at the Drop In Centre.

High for the ladies was Ileen Dunsey, low was Norma McDonald. High for the men was Cal Bartlett, low was Frances Sims.

Twelve tables were in play for whist on Dec. 11.

Marguerite Javrosky and Mary Bailey tied for ladies high. Low for ladies was a tie also between Winnie Martin and Patsy Maure.

Two ladies, Evelyn Jensen and Bobby Agar, playing as guests, won the low and high.

Harry Tweddie was home at the Wishing Well for a short while. He is now back in an Edmonton hospital.

Adeline Luchetti is expected home soon from the Glenrose hospital where she has been undergoing therapy. Frances Bezdudny and Evert Brandt have moved to the Stanger-La Lodge. Hope you both settle in well there.

Women's Institute concludes year with meeting

By Edith Deby
The Women's Institute concluded a successful year with a meeting at Betty Bouch's and a dinner on Dec. 17.

Info on hay needed

Therby RCMP are looking for information into the disappearance of several bales of hay. Approximately 180 bales of hay were stolen from property northeast of Therby last week, according to Cpl. Dave Lee of the Therby RCMP. Anyone with information is urged to call 759-9505 or Crime Stoppers.

The WI motto of "For Home and Country" extends far beyond our own borders. The annual reports of co-conveners and executive officers show not only support for local activities such as Santa's Anonymous and Win House but a knowledge and support of the women of other countries.

Visitors and new members are always welcome.

Artifacts continue to trickle in to the museum. Two of the latest contributions are a headscarf from Olga Madson which is more than 100 years old and a better print from Eva Wapshott.

A wedding of special interest to oldtimers will take place in The Church of God on Dec. 28 when Geraldine Thomas, daughter of Gordon and Marion Thomas, will become the bride of Richard Gilbert of Sheridan, Montana.

Jerry is the great granddaughter of the first settlers.

The young people met at university at Pullman, Washington, where Jerry is furthering her education and Richard is working toward a doctorate in animal breeding while teaching part-time. The newlyweds will have aiding honey moon in Banff before returning to classes.

De and Mrs. Arthur Jorgensen leave early in the new year for Kingston, Jamaica, where he has been hired by the government to revise the elementary curriculum in mathematics.

During the second part of the 18 month stay, Jorgensen will be advising teachers of methods of updating teaching skills in the field of mathematics. Jorgensen has strong ties to this community.

Not only was he vice principal at one time but his wife is the former Ivy Haddon.

Two girls hurt in Warburg accident

Two 17-year-old Western girls were rushed to Edmonton hospital Thursday night following a two-vehicle accident near Warburg. The two remain in intensive care at the University of Alberta Hospital. Thorby RCMP say at about 6:30 p.m. a half-ton truck and a semi-trailer truck collided at the entrance to Warburg. Both females were occupants of the half-ton truck.

Thorby RCMP are continuing their investigation.
